Still some spots left. Entry fee for each team is $120.00.
